Naber Subdivision Annexed to Village, Curnes Approved

Legal Status of Tavern and Vote of New Citizens Are Considered

An ordinance was adopted by the village board Tuesday evening annexing the Barney F. Naber subdivision comprising half of the land between St. Peter's church and Tiffany rd., north of Rte. 173 and south of Orchard st. extended.

At the same time the board gave its approval tentatively for new subdivision plans submitted by W. H. Curnes on land east of the Soo line tracks north of Depot st. The area known as Curnes Park subdivision has 24 lots from Depot st. north to Thomas Ct., and from Gail st. east to Rinear's acres.

The annexing of the Naber property enlarges the village limits to include much improved property. A tavern brought within the village limits will retain its license if the legal opinion of Village Attorney George McGaughey is accepted. President Geo. B. Bartlett believes the permit is in conflict with the present ordinance limiting taverns in number and area, but McGaughey said court decisions hold that a corporation must accept the status of licensed business when annexed. McGaughey said persons living within the newly annexed territory can vote in the coming village election.

Amiel Feyerabend Appointed Dealer For Studebaker

Amiel Feyerabend, Inc., which has been engaged in the handling of used cars for the past year, announced this week that a direct factory dealership in Studebaker cars had been obtained, and that in the future new Studebaker cars will be handled as well as used cars.

At present two Champion four-door sedans are on display as well as a Commander sedan and a Land Cruiser. The Champion models are competitive models which are in the price range with the Ford, Plymouth, and Chevrolet, and the other models are larger, more powerful cars.

In addition to the passenger cars, a full line of trucks will be on display, with those currently on display being a one-half ton pickup, a three-quarter ton pickup, a one-ton stake and a ton-and-a-half chassis and cab.

During the past few months the company has enlarged its facilities and now has a complete service department both for repair and service on new cars and other mechanical work on all makes of cars.

New Movie Theatre for Fox Lake Called "Pride," Assured Before Fall

FOX LAKE—President Arthur J. Amundsen and Jack Benson, the latter of Ingleside, have announced plans for a new motion picture theatre in Fox Lake.

A building on Rte. 12 south of his real estate office has been leased from Dewey Watts and will be enlarged to provide seating for 600 persons. The theatre will be known as "The Pride".

Features of the theatre will be a sound-proof, crying room, slide-back seats, air conditioning, and a Hammond electric organ.

There will be Saturday morning matinees for children.

This is the third attempt to get a theatre since the war.

Village Leases Lot on Orchard St. to Rescue Squad for Twenty Years

Plans for New Building to House Equipment Will Be Started

An ordinance leasing lot 12 on Orchard st. to the Antioch Rescue squad for 20 years was passed by the village board Tuesday evening.

A resolution giving President George B. Bartlett and Clerk L. D. Powles authority to sign the lease followed and the lot soon will be possessed by the rescue squad for building purposes.

The village retains the authority to limit the use of the property for rescue squad purposes only and has authority in saying what type of building shall be erected. In event the squad should ever disband the building will revert to the village.

The lease was made for 20 years instead of 99 years or perpetual lease, and the consideration is for the payment of $1 a year.

Herman Holbek, captain of the rescue squad, said that as soon as the lease is signed plans will be made for the construction of the building. It will house the truck and other rescue equipment, and will provide a meeting room and first aid room.

The organization already has a building fund.

Bartlett Gets Building Permit; Trustees Say Others Not So Honest

Approval to build an addition to his service station at Main and Quality sts., was given President George B. Bartlett by the village board Tuesday evening.

President Bartlett yielded his official chair to Trustee Arthur Hawkins while the matter was considered.

The building will be an addition on the south of the present structure. It will be constructed of cement blocks with a frontage of 30 feet and a depth of 28 feet. The cost is estimated at $4,000. It will house a hoist and wash room.

With the Bartlett request disposed of, Trustee Merrill Cunningham projected a protest over the failure of sizeable improvements to come before the board. Then it was revealed that one improvement costing at $2,000 was estimated at only $200 when the petition was granted.

The petitioner will be billed for the additional fee, and inspection of the property, a residence converted to two apartments will be made, trustees said.

Mayor Seeks Playgrounds For Children of Village

President George B. Bartlett said he would ask E. L. Laurin who audits the village books why no provision is made in the estimates for money to establish playgrounds in the village.

President Bartlett said that playgrounds are needed and suggested that vacant lots in the south part of the village be converted into places for youngsters to play.

"Our 37 acres of park land across the railroad tracks isn't exactly suitable for neighborhood playgrounds," said Bartlett.

"What will you do about other parts of the village?" he was asked. "Provide them there too," he answered.

Mrs. Arthur Rosenfeldt was hostess to the members of her bridge club at her home Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Following the card games luncheon was served by the hostess.

High School Applies for Membership in National Honor Society for 1949

The Antioch Township High school has applied for a chapter of the National Honor society an organization through which scholarship, leadership, service and good character are encouraged.

The local school was invited to apply for membership because of its high standing, Paul E. Elieker, secretary of the national council said.

Principal T. R. Birkhead said he hoped that membership would be obtained in time to give recognition to gain honors rating for any senior who can qualify. The charter is expected in 10 days from national headquarters at Washington D. C.

The organization is devoid of commercialism and is operated by a national council of high school principals. There are 4,306 member schools at present.

Seniors who qualify are privileged to wear National Honor Society pin, which is in the shape of a keystone and bears a torch.

Former Antioch Woman Dies from Injuries Received in Accident

Mrs. Mabel Zeigler, Daytona Beach, Fla., formerly of Antioch, died at 7:45 a. m. Sunday, Mar. 27 at the Halifax Dist. hospital in Daytona Beach from injuries received in an automobile accident.

Mrs. Nellie Nordquist, a neighbor of Mrs. Zeigler, was in the car with her and was injured.

The funeral service was held in Daytona Beach and burial will be at Sturgis, Mich., at later date.

Mrs. Zeigler was the widow of the late William Zeigler. She was a native of Sturgis, Mich., and resided in Antioch until 12 years ago when she moved to Florida. She was 73 years old.

The accident which resulted in Mrs. Zeigler's death occurred at Volusia and Canal rd., while they were en route to a flower show. A car driven by Mrs. Marguerite Suter of Daytona Beach ran into the side of the midget car of Mrs. Zeigler tossing it completely off the road into a cable attached to a traffic light, snapping the cable and causing the light to fall. Mrs. Zeigler suffered a crushed chest and died of hemorrhages.

Mrs. Suter and her 12-year-old daughter were but slightly hurt.

Orchard Street to Get Sewer, Water Under Assessment

Village Board Acts Quickly To Provide Utilities On Request

The village board acted swiftly Tuesday evening in preparing for the installation of sewer and water mains on the west end of Orchard st., by passing a resolution calling for the employment of an engineer to survey, draw plans and provide estimates of cost.

Action was taken after Barney F. Naber and others asked for the improvement on the basis of special assessment after they failed to obtain the signature of Dr. A. N. Berke in an agreement to bear a share of expense in proportion to the frontage.

The ordinance calling for a bond issue with special assessment, while costing more, will draw in the village as a whole for a share of the cost.

A stranger to board members who had been silent during the discussion gained recognition after the resolution was passed and said that he believed Dr. Berke would change his attitude on the matter if the proceedings could be halted.

Has 150 ft. Frontage Dr. Berke has a lot frontage of 150 feet with costs estimated at $6.75 a foot for the installation of both sewer and water.

"Dr. Berke's property was formerly owned by the late Walter Chinn who agreed when his water and sewer were put in to share the expense of the extension of the main. The property of Howard Gaston next door was added under the same consideration," said President George B. Bartlett.

Gaston is one of the signers of the petition although he already has sewer and water the same as Dr. Berke.

The Rev. F. N. Flaherty and others representing St. Peter's church were present and said they hoped the utilities would be completed by Aug. 1 and not later than Sept. 1.

Will Purchase Bonds

Naber said that in event the improvement was put in through special assessment he and others would purchase the bonds.

The length of the mains is estimated at 1,100 feet, and both water and sewer can be put in at the same time.

The two utilities would lead to the new parochial school.

Wauconda and Grant to Open Track Season Here With Antioch Tomorrow

Antioch Township High school will open its track season here tomorrow in a triangular meet with Wauconda and Grant township high schools.

A dual meet scheduled with Zion-Benton for Tuesday of this week was cancelled because of a conflicting event at Zion.

Coach Maurice Kruzan says that his team's strength so far lies in the high jump and 440 yard dash where his more experienced athletes shone last year. In other events his new material is still untried.

No meets are scheduled for next week.

While attention at present is centered on track a few of the prospective ball players are limbering up for the season on the diamond that follows track.

This Year's Meat Supply

As of the early part of March, retail meat prices in the Chicago area, which are generally typical of the country as a whole, were down and average of 20 percent below last summer's peak levels. Some popular cuts were down much more—round steak, for instance, was being offered at 30 per cent less than at the high point.

Supply and demand did that. A heavy supply of meat came to market, and at the same time there was some slackening in consumer buying. The meat had to be moved and lower prices were the inevitable result. As an interesting by-product of the change, one of the biggest meat packers took a substantial operating loss for 1948.

As a result, there has been something of a reversal in the trend of livestock supplies and prices are expected to level out. However, no one need fear a meat shortage. Last year, the average American ate 146 pounds of meat. This year, it is estimated, he will account for 145 pounds, made up of 60 pounds of beef, 9 pounds of veal, 72 pounds of pork, and 4 pounds of lamb and mutton. A decline in available supplies of beef, veal, lamb and mutton will be made up by an increase in the amount of pork.

The American dining table will continue to carry its share of the good things of life, and meat is one of them. The price we must pay, when measured against the average increase in dollar income, will be fair and reasonable.

Class Tax Beaten

The North Dakota legislature has defeated a proposal for a class tax against chain stores. A few weeks before, the Idaho legislature repealed a similar tax that had been on the books since 1933. In each case, producers, consumers, labor groups, and other kinds of merchants opposed punitive tax treatment of the chains.

That is a good sign. The chains are an important and legitimate form of retail merchandising. They are among the best customers of agriculture and industry. They were the leaders in developing techniques of mass-distribution which have helped make possible a steadily rising standard of living for the nation. As a general rule, they are leaders in all worth while community development campaigns, charity drives, and similar activities. They know that their own future depends on the future of the communities they serve, and their policies reflect that.

Furthermore, the old fear that the growth of the chains would mean the slow death of the independent merchant has been proven unfounded. The independents have grown too, and they do the bulk of all the retail trade of the country. Instead of looking on chain competition as a death warrant, they devised ways and means of their own to meet it, and to make their stores attractive to their customers. In practically every community, chain stores and independent stores, dealing in the same character of wares, are operating side by side, both doing well.

Class taxation of any enterprise cannot be defended. The action of the North Dakota and Idaho legislatures indicates recognition of this view.

The Low Down From Hickory Grove

Today I am coming to the aid of the under-dog—Congress. So many yappers are jumping Congress—calling the boys there "do-nothings" and "un-social minded" and "non-liberal" that I have been delving into the fracas.

Congress deserves a pat on the back—not too big, but just enough to encourage 'em a speck—they been doing pretty good here lately—keeping their shirt on. And now if they will keep their trolley on—and their eye on the track, we can harbor a bit of hope that the Govt. will yet be pared back a bit. And maybe we won't need to ante 6 million bucks for repairs and expansion of the White House—6 million, brother, that would build 1000 houses at 6000 each.

Citizens in this fair land again need a free hand. If a young feller chooses to use his noggin and his muscle—on his own hook and a little over-time—let him profit. If he can make a better or bigger doughnut for less, let him. If he can turn out a hotter gallon of gas, give him free rein—and 3 cheers.

If Congress will resist fiddlin' around with social medicine—inflation yammer—deflation prevention—spirals—security—cow creek dams—uplift—discrimination, etc., etc., and even maybe decided to come on home, right soon, it could be doing all of us a good turn.

Yours with the low-down,
JO SERRA

Young Men of Antioch and Vicinity

If you are between the ages of fourteen and forty, this will help you. How would you like to increase the size of your chest several inches, gain a pair of real football shoulders, and add pounds of solid muscle to your upper body and arms, the part of your body most usually under-developed? Broad shoulders and a deep chest are always admired. There probably isn't a man anywhere in the world who wouldn't be pleased to have a broader pair of shoulders if he had his choice. People turn around to take a second look at the man with broad shoulders.

Sounds like wishful thinking, you say? Yet that is exactly what thousands of athletes, boxers, wrestlers, football players, professional strong men, and just plain enthusiastic body-builders and health seekers have been doing for years with chest expanders. Very few of the really wonderful physiques of the world have been built without the help of these truly wonderful body-builders. So if these expanders can build world famous physiques and athletes, you can easily understand how they can greatly improve you in an amazingly short time, in a small fraction of the time, these men use.

NOES GRADUATED XERCISORS a wonderful new natural rubber exerciser not manufactured during the war due to the rubber shortage, is now back. Built on the same principle as expanders used for scores of years by outstanding athletes the world over, it has many new and better advantages. It comes in rubber bands of varying strengths, interchangeable in a special type of sure grip handles. These rubbers will stretch twice their length, and instead of losing their strength through use, they actually INCREASE in resistance as they age and cure. These sets possess unlimited strength, and with the use of all rubbers offer a graduated resistance from ten pounds to more than two hundred pounds, yet are so compact they can be carried in your overcoat pocket, and weigh less than 1 1/4 pounds. Absolutely silent, you can use them in your own room and not disturb the rest of the household, and are so convenient to take along on vacations or business trips.

These rubbers will last for years, and if used as little as ten minutes a day four or five times a week, will assure you a beautiful, well built body in an amazingly short time, at a cost of less than two cents a week. So be one of those too seldom seen men that create admiration and respect where ever you go. If you are now weak and under-developed and only wish for average strength and appearance, or if you are already somewhat of an athlete and wish to go on to the limit in strength and physique, you can fulfill your wishes with this exerciser. Maybe next year you will be the one that will bring the cheers from the bleachers with a thrill-packed ninety yard run down the football field. It will certainly improve your chances several hundred percent.

See this exerciser for yourself, examine them fully and try them out. I will be happy to give you a demonstration at your own home. Off-Taste Milk

Any of a dozen different kinds of highly-flavored plants and vegetables can distort the flavor and odor of milk if fed to cows just before milking. Corn silage, cabbage, turnips, and similar vegetables are a frequent cause of off flavors this time of the year. The trouble can be avoided largely by giving such feed immediately after milking—never before.

When Cooking Veal

As every good cook knows, the secret of veal cookery is using a long, slow method. This will keep veal from being tough, even though it has little fat. For chops and cutlets, braising is better than frying. Roasting is usually recommended for the more tender cuts and pot-roasting for the less tender ones.

In Darkest Africa

Forests in some parts of Africa are so thick that most animals cannot live in them. They are inhabited by reptiles, monkeys, and birds. Curiously enough, while the birds of Africa are among the world's most beautiful, few of them sing, according to the World Book encyclopedia.

Raising Turkeys

Turkeys and chickens should be kept in separate quarters, a good distant apart, if possible. Chickens may carry certain diseases and transmit them to turkeys, even when the chickens are not visibly affected. If turkeys are weak or droopy, develop running noses or other signs of poor health, obtain veterinary diagnosis at once.

Greatest Explosion

History's most terrific explosion was in 1883, when the Indonesian volcanic island Krakatau blew up and vanished. Stone, dust and ashes rocketed 17 miles into the sky. Fifty-foot waves drowned 36,000 as they roared through the archipelago's thousands of islands.

'Goldsmith Maid'

Most amazing trotting horse that ever lived was "Goldsmith Maid," which was a farm animal until she was six, raced but once until she was eight, fractured a large succession of records, made her fastest time at 19, and still a champion at 20.

Timber Consumption

In the 300 years since 1630 we removed twice as much timber as was growing when the first colonists landed, and we still have abundant forests that will serve us in perpetuity if we manage them sensibly.

LAKE VILLA

Rev. T. E. Rodd announces that "The Life Everlasting" is the topic for the sermon for the worship service at the Community church next Sunday. On Thursday evening this week a reception was held at the church for the new members to be taken into the church on Palm Sunday. The church board of education met with Mr. and Mrs. Neil Riedel at their home Tuesday evening to discuss their problem. The Junior choir under the direction of Mrs. Warren Brown sang at the worship service and did very nicely. This gave the Senior choir a rest.

The directors of the Lake Villa Community Men's Club have lined up a number of attractions for the "Springtime Follies" to be given at the school gym on April 29 and 30. This will be a professional show, lasting two hours. Adam Dick is chairman of the program committee with Wm. Marks and Jere Hagen. E. K. Hart heads the sale of tickets and Wm. Walker is chairman of the advertising committee. Each member has something to do, and as this is a community affair for the benefit of the young people, it should have the support of everyone.

Capt. Wm. Walker, of Enid, Okla., and a member of U. S. Army Air Force, came to Chicago last Saturday with other members of the air force. His father, Wm. Walker, Sr., met him at the airport and he spent until Sunday afternoon with members of his family. He reports that his young son, 6 weeks old, is doing splendidly.

Mr. and Mrs. Neil Reidel, Donna and Cheryl, also Mrs. Marie Hamlin visited Mrs. Riedel's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Betschel, in Chicago, last Sunday and also visited the Lincoln Park Zoo.

The members of Cedar Lake Camp of Royal Neighbors entertained members of Antioch, Grayslake, Gurnee, N. Chicago, Waukegan, Russell, Libertyville and Wadsworth camps at the village hall on Tuesday evening, Mar. 29, and more than one hundred were present. The Officer's stations were filled by members of the visiting camps. Beulah Newyear, of Russell, was guest Oracle and had the honor of presenting her mother, Mrs. Lucy Nellis, of Russell, with her 50 year pin. Mrs. Nellis had been one of the early members of Cedar Lake camp and later moved to Russell. Mrs. Cynthia Miller, of Gurnee, was a charter member here and was also presented with a 50 year pin. Her daughter, Mrs. Panzer, made the presentation. Another 50 year member was the Receiver of Cedar Lake camp, Mrs. Cora Hamlin. The three ladies all received corsages. Following the meeting the guests played bingo and later in the evening were served cake, ice cream and coffee in the basement dining room.

A. L. Jennings, of New York City, stopped over last Friday on his way from Kentucky, where he had been on business, to spend until Sunday with his wife and children, who are at the Frank Hamlin home. Mrs. Jennings is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hamlin.

Mrs. Minnie B. Phillips spent the past week with relatives at Harvey, Ill.

Mrs. Dan Boyer spent a few days last week with her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Griffith, who is very ill at her home in Chicago.

The Pinochle club met Tuesday last week with Mrs. Charles Britton at her home on Burnett Ave. Following the pot luck dinner at 12:30 the ladies spent the afternoon playing pinochle.

The Joe Nader, Sr., family welcomed their second son, Corp. Ralph Nader home from Germany this week. He landed in the States last week and spent a few days in New Jersey before getting his discharge after 3 years 6 months spent in the army, and all but 6 months spent in Germany. He was married before leaving Germany to Miss Anneliese Naumann, and she will join him here in the near future. He purchased a jeep in Germany and drove home from New Jersey with the jeep, accompanied by comrades.

Mrs. Lulu Nelson, who has been in Nashville, Ill., for the winter with her sisters, Mrs. Taylor and Mrs. Rountree, returned last week and is with her daughter, Mrs. Carl Ek-dahl and family.

Mrs. Ruth Schumaker spent Thursday in Highland Park, while her son, Bob, underwent surgery, and is recuperating at his home with his mother and his grandmother, Mrs. Church.

Mrs. Don Summers and children left last week to visit her parents in Nashville, Tenn., for a time.

Mrs. Gordon Blumenschein entertained Sharon Langbein, Gail Thorne, Nancy Crib, Donna Nickerson, Melody Midgley and Darlene Harms at a party at her home last Saturday afternoon in honor of her daughter, Joyce, who celebrated her seventh birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Fish, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Blumenschein, Mrs. Anne Nelson and Mrs. Leo Barnstable attended the wedding reception for Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Keisler at Niekerville hall near Wauconda last Saturday evening. Mr. Keisler and his parents, formerly lived here.

Mr. Kenneth Blumenschein had as guests last Saturday evening some of his former buddies with their wives, also Misses Catherine and Betty O'Brien.

When to Iron Rayons
Unlike cotton clothes, which are allowed to dry completely and are then redampened, rayons iron best when they are allowed to dry only until partially damp for ironing. Don't try to iron rayons when they are too damp, for you will only waste time, and may stretch or distort the fabric.

Dutch Elm Disease
Dutch elm disease has killed 150,000 elms in the last 15 years. In many New England communities, famous for their towering elm trees, every elm has been killed. Discovery of the disease in Denver is the first indication that it has crossed the Mississippi river into the western United States.

Chicago's Switchyards
Switching district in Chicago handles approximately 45,000 freight cars a day, which is more than St. Louis and New York City combined.

Sandwich Spread
Mix cream cheese with chopped green peppers, prepared horseradish and little mayonnaise for a delicious sandwich spread.

Turkey's Preference
Tests have shown that turkeys prefer ladino clover to bluegrass and several other common pasture plants.

Adeline Okon Recent Bride of Donald Heath

The Rev. Joseph Savage heard the wedding vows of Miss Adeline Okon, of Elmwood Park and Donald Heath of Antioch in ceremonies at St. William's church at Elmwood, Saturday.

The bride, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Okon of Elmwood, wore a gray suit with white hat and shoulder length veil, and carried a bouquet of white carnations with white hyacinth blossoms.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose Mrs. Louis Rossi of Chicago to attend her as matron of honor. She was attired in a light beige suit, with brown accessories. She carried a bouquet of salmon colored geranium blossoms.

Frank Moser served as best man for the bridegroom, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Clarence L. Heath of Antioch.

A reception for the immediate families was held following the ceremony at the Okon home in Elmwood.

Mr. and Mrs. Heath plan to make their home in Antioch.

Carol E. Shrum, Bride Of J. H. Messing

Miss Carol Shrum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Shrum, of Little Silver Lake, became the bride of Mr. John Henry Messing, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Messing, of Victory Street, in a service at the Methodist church Saturday afternoon, April 2, at 3 o'clock. The Rev. G. Richard Tuttle officiated.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in an aqua suit and her flowers were gardenias.

Miss Betty Gregory, of Antioch, was bridesmaid and Miss Julia Nowak, served as maid of honor. Robert Edwards was best man and William Ellers was usher.

The bride's mother wore green and the groom's mother was attired in a black suit. Their flowers were pink carnations.

A reception was held in the evening at the Channel Lake pavilion. The young couple are making their home for the present at Little Silver Lake, and are both employed in McHenry.

Out of town guests were Mrs. Joseph Paulsen and daughter, Joanne, of Chicago.

ANTIOCH MYF CAPTURES BASKETBALL CHAMPIONSHIP IN THIS AREA

The Antioch MYF achieved the distinction of winning two first places in the final MYF championship play-offs at the Spaulding gymnasium in Waukegan last Friday evening.

The Girls' MYF team, which has been defeated only once during the basketball season, defeated Lake Villa Methodist church, the runners-up, by a score of 20 to 4. Previously the girls had defeated Waukegan in the semi-finals. Players on the Antioch team included Verna Kufalk, Captain, June and Jane Hunter, Virginia and June Petersen, Betty Jean McDougall, Gloria Janich, and Adella Rentner.

In the boys' championship play-off, the Antioch MYF won a hard-fought contest with Waukegan First Methodist church by a score of 29 to 24. The Antioch young people overcame a 9 to 2 Waukegan lead to forge ahead during the second half. Previously they had defeated York House Methodist church in Waukegan in the semi-finals.

The boys' team was captained by Preston Reckers. Others playing in the close contest included Bob Kufalk, manager, Walter Hill, Jr., George Rearden, Bob Wilton and Bud Cardiff.

The Antioch young people will be feted at a basketball banquet to be given at the Memorial Methodist church in Zion on Saturday evening. Young people from churches throughout this area who have been participating in the basketball league will be present. Both the boys' and girls' teams will receive trophies at the banquet.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Pitman returned home Monday after spending the winter in West Palm Beach, Fla.

Palm Sunday at the Antioch

Methodist church is the annual oc-

the Wesley Memorial hospital in Chicago. The large Methodist hospital annually receives eggs from throughout the Rock River confer-and Homes of the local church.

Mrs. Westlake will be assisted by members of her committee, Mrs.

ceived the distinction of making the largest donation of eggs to the Wesley hospital of any church in the entire Rock River conference which includes the large Chicago churches.

adults. They may also be left at the church on Saturday.

Public Housing Adds $105. To Your Taxes But No More Houses

If your neighbor asked you to put up $15,000 for operating expenses on his home for the next 40 years, would you agree?

That is the question Ed Vos, posed in discussing public housing legislation.

This question, he hastened to explain, is not just theoretical for that is exactly what the government is asking you to do in the new public housing bill.

In one section of this Bill alone, dealing with public housing, the government proposes to spend something over $12. billion dollars of your tax money to subsidize the operating and maintenance expenses for 810,000 public housing units during the next 40 years, he pointed out.

This $15,000 per home does not guarantee the construction of a single house; nor does it pay for the land or construction cost of these public housing units, he said.

To this there will be added administrative costs for a housing agency to administer the bill and a local bond issue to pay the actual construction costs, said Vos.

Altogether the new public housing bill proposes a government expenditure of $750,000,000 for slum clearance; $12.3 billion for public housing; and $262. million for farm housing, he declared. Including administrative, research, architectural and engineering costs, the bill calls for the expenditure of some $15. billion.

If every man, woman and child in the United States paid taxes, which of course they do not, the cost of this bill in taxes would amount to $105 per person, he stated, and there is no guarantee that a single additional home will be added to the available supply private industry would produce without this Bill.

Producing A-1 Cream A farmer is more likely to produce first-grade cream if he realizes the importance of using good methods in producing quality butter.

Best storage temperature for butter is 40 to 45 degrees Fahrenheit. Butter should be stored in a cool, dry place, away from light and odors. Butter should be kept in its original wrapper or in a clean, airtight container.

Russians

Claim Supersonic Rocket

BERLIN.—The world's first piloted supersonic rocket projectile is the spearhead of a new, gigantic Soviet air force, a Russian science magazine has claimed.

The aircraft-rocket was described by the magazine Vokrug Seveta (Around the World) as "flying with a speed far in excess of sound," which is about 700 miles an hour at sea level.

The projectile was said to have been put through its first public paces on Red air force day June 25, when, the Soviet author d, "a huge crowd stood awe struck by the sight of this extraordinary propellerless machine hurtling past them at colossal speed."

Experts "Debunk" Lot Of Gadgets Marketed As Cure for Ills

WASHINGTON.—Experts gathered in the debunking laboratories of the national food and drug administration and regarded a mounting stack of gadgets which have been sold as panaceas for plagues of the human race.

The public has been buying them as cures for everything from falling hair to hemophilia.

Successful sales of some of them apparently depend on how many ailments the inventor can list as curable through use of his contraption—and those claims are the basis of seizure and prosecution by the food and drug administration.

"There has been a deluge of them since the war," says George P. Larrick, associate commissioner of the administration.

"Some of the inventions are actually dangerous," says Dr. Irvin Kerlan, medical officer in charge of therapeutic devices.

"High on the list of gadgets we seek out is that which claims a cure for a serious disease, particularly that disease which grows progressively worse while the patient tinkers with the new miracle machine."

One of the newest devices and still under litigation in the Mid-west is a dumbbell-appearing creation in which the center bar is supposed to be filled with water which has been exposed to cosmic rays.

By merely holding the dumbbell, the patient is supposed to absorb the latent energy and acquire a resistance to diseases and ailments. The cost is between $50 and $100.

Mud From Norway Fjords Sometimes Holds Uranium

OSLO.—Uranium-containing black mud can be dredged up from the bottoms of some of the fjords that cut deeply into the coast of Norway, states Dr. Kaare M. Strom of the University of Oslo.

The atomic energy element, however, is not present in high enough concentration to justify scooping out the mud and working it as an ore. It is of interest primarily as a possible means of determining under what geological conditions the uranium-containing black shales may have been formed. Uranium concentrations in present fjord-bottom muds range from 13 to 60 grams per metric ton, Dr. Strom's analyses show. This is equivalent to from one-half ounce to two ounces per long ton. This is far below present levels for workable ores. The U. S. atomic energy commission will purchase such ores when they contain over two pounds a ton.

Dental 'Hang-over' Brings Damage Suit in England

EPSOM, ENGLAND.—Saint Clair Salmon in asking $300 damages from a dentist told a court the last thing he remembered clearly was the doctor giving him an anesthetic after which:

He found himself outside the surgery walking to his car. Persuading a policeman he was not drunk and was fit to drive.

Trying to enter his garage, but colliding with the right-hand wall. Trying again, but knocking over a gasoline pump on the left.

Finally achieving entry. Getting out and collapsing. Waking up inside his house five hours later.

Discovering he had left his coat, collar and dentures in the surgery.

The dentist, Frank Davies, had entered a claim for $80 against Mr. Salmon. The court gave judgement of the counter-claim.

Vermont Town Doesn't Have Enough Pupils for Schools

CHITTENDEN, VT.—At a time when most communities are worried about overcrowded school buildings, Chittenden has an even more pressing problem for the opposite reason.

There aren't enough pupils to fill the $500,000 Frederic Duclos Barstow memorial school. Upkeep of the structure strains the town budget each year. With 379 residents, the town can fill only 89 of the school's 200 classroom seats.

Under the will of multimillionaire William S. Barstow, the school may go to Middlebury college "if it does not fulfill its purpose."

Audacious Crow Upsets Whole City By Tricks

HARTFORD, W. I. S.—A single shiny black crow, with coy instincts and great audacity, had all Hartford confused.

First resident to tangle with the bird's sense of humor was Clarence (Clenny) Smith, a milkman. One morning as Clenny was delivering milk just before dawn he left a bottle of milk at a regular stop. He put the change from the transaction on the bottle cap.

Returning to his truck, Clenny heard the coins clink on the porch. He saw a crow drinking from the bottle.

"Gwan, beat it," cried Clenny to the crow.

"Gwan, beat it," cried the crow to Clenny.

The baffled milkman returned to the dairy. After that the crow regularly accompanied Clenny on his early morning rounds. If Clenny hid the milk, the crow found it. If the crow didn't find it, neither did the customer.

Clenny tried circling the truck off the route to elude the thirsty crow. But he'd find the cagey bird perched on the porch railing when he got to the next stop on his milk route.

Outwitted Bird

The only way Clenny was able to outwit the crow was to carry a supply of cardboard cartons with him on the route. When the crow appeared, Clenny covered his milk deliveries.

Rumor in Hartford credited the crow with expensive and discriminating tastes. It is said that the crow drank only cream. When the bird found a bottle of homogenized milk, it took the cap off, but left the contents untouched.

Bill Dunwiddie of the high school teaching staff wasn't worried about the milk bottle trick. It was the windshield wiper on his car. The same crow stole the wiper blade at every opportunity and hid it on top of Dunwiddie's porch. Bill had to climb up a ladder to retrieve it.

His only solution was to hide the wiper himself. That still left the car without a windshield wiper.

Children at St. Kilian's parochial school reported another trick of the troublesome crow. It flew at them when they were playing in the school yard.

Snatched Clothes

And the crow snatched clothespins from washlines. The bird didn't wait until the town's women had their clothes all hung out. He banged around snatching pins as fast as they were put on—let the laundry fall where it may.

Sly was the word for Hartford's crow. It sat on a handy fence railing, looking innocent with its beady eyes. But let the observer come too close—pff it was off. Then it alighted a little further away and gave the observer the come-on again.

Great Britain Relaxes Curb On Purchases of Clothing

LONDON.—The biggest relaxation since clothing rationing began in Britain nearly eight years ago will enable a man or woman to buy a new suit or dress from now on without coupons.

Harold Wilson, president of the board of trade, making this announcement in commons, said this improvement, with the freeing of footwear and other changes made last year, meant about half of the clothing field now was off the ration.

The relaxation will apply to all woven wool cloth and garments made from it, such as trousers, jackets, overcoats, skirts, dresses and children's wear.

The minister made other changes, such as having the coupon rate for fur garments, and indicated further improvements might be made later. He said better production of wool had made the changes possible, but that cotton cloth still was in short supply. For that reason there will be no relief in the household linen situation or in men's shirts.

Nation's Television Sales Topped 975,000 Last Year

WASHINGTON.—Output of television receivers totaled more than 975,000 sets during 1948, bringing total television production since the end of the war to 1,160,000, according to a report issued by the Radio Manufacturers association. An additional 25,000 to 30,000 un-assembled television kits were manufactured during the year.

About 44 per cent of the total was manufactured during the last quarter of 1948. In December approximately 39,000 television sets were produced weekly, but production was set back by holiday shutdowns.

Total production of radio sets in 1948 was estimated at more than 16,000,000 sets. However, with many radio manufacturers devoting an increasingly larger share of their production capacity to television, output of radios was about 20 per cent below total production in 1947, which was the second highest in the history of the industry.

Village Moves to Collect Delinquent Water Bills; Ordinance is Challenged

There are 33 delinquent water bills on the village records, Walter I. Scott, sewer and water commissioner told the board of trustees Tuesday evening.

Scott said he is gradually getting the accounts into shape but is having extreme difficulty in three cases. The board authorized him to shut off the water where the customer failed to pay.

The ordinance calling for a sewer service tax is being tested by the Willowdale dairy which uses the village sewer but provides its own water. The ordinance provides that in such a situation the amount of water emptied into the sewer is estimated.

Scott was told to see that a meter on the north village limits now serving several persons be repaired and kept in good condition or the water be shut off to the users. At present the users are paying but a minimum charge.

OIL SOURCES

Men Drilling Below Water

CHICAGO, (U.P.)—For more than a year, about 900 men have been living on islands of steel in the Gulf of Mexico, drilling for oil below the surface of the water.

Two oil men attending the annual convention of the American Petroleum Institute said the operation, known as offshore drilling, is being carried on by 15 oil companies. Their operations cover a 2,500,000-acre area from six to 20 miles off the shores of Texas and Louisiana.

The oil man said their companies have achieved "fairly good" results so far, compared with land operations which cost much less than offshore drilling.

Before underwater drilling can begin, gangs must construct their 1,500-ton steel islands by driving pilings 100 feet below the ocean bed, and extending them 50 feet in the water and 40 feet above the water's surface. Construction of the pilings costs an oil firm about $1,000,000 before drilling can start.

Crews Change Work

Offshore drilling camps then are set up on the pilings over an approximate 100-by-80-foot area. Besides the drilling platforms, each camp includes a bunkhouse and cookhouse and enough supplies to provision a 15-man crew for three weeks.

However, crews usually work for several days only and then are transplanted to shore for as many days off. Shifts of workers alternate around the clock all year.

The oil men said their principal headaches are the tropical storms which sweep the gulf area from May through November. However, the pilings are considered as safe as the ground on shore and the men seldom are called in from their camps atop the pilings. The pilings are built to withstand 165-mile winds and 35-foot waves.

Underwater drilling was started after geologists reported what they termed a "continental shelf" in the gulf waters. The "shelf" is composed of land which extends many miles into the water before dropping to oceanic depths.

Use Gravity Meter

American oil men in Venezuela were the first to employ offshore drilling methods and succeeded in recovering oil from depths of 100 feet below the surface of Lake Maracaibo.

Geologists use a gravity meter to outline areas which should be tested for drilling. The instrument reveals disturbed areas which show where oil may be present, but the oil men said the only sure way to test the ground is to start digging operations.

The oil men said that offshore drilling in the Gulf of Mexico was started by oil firms in an effort to augment America's crude oil supply and reserves.

War Trials Judge Suggests Trying War-Makers Early

LOS ANGELES.—The presiding judge of the Nuernberg war crime trials has said that future wars may be prevented by trying international criminals before hostilities break out.

Judge Michael A. Musmanno of Pittsburgh urged establishment through the United Nations of a peacetime international court to try criminals responsible for inciting war.

A former Navy captain, Musmanno presided over history's biggest murder trial—that of Nazi generals accused of slaying one million persons. He is here to confer on a forthcoming movie based on a 20-volume research work he compiled to prove Hitler is dead.

"Throughout history the man who burned one house and killed one innocent person would be hanged for arson and murder, but if he destroyed a whole civilization he was given a comfortable niche in history," the judge said. "The great newness which comes from World War II is the creation of a tribunal able to judge international criminals.

"The hell with this idea that any one nation is responsible for international crime. Was Germany responsible for what happened in Europe—or was Hitler?"

Musmanno called Hitler "the most monumental figure of all history, able by his strange, overwhelming magnetism and personality to dominate the men around him."

Antique Dealer Uncovers

Ancient "Shocking Machine"

NEW LEBANON, N. Y.—An antique dealer's search of a New Lebanon barn turned up an electric "shocking machine" used by the Shakers more than 100 years ago to treat coughs and colds.

The strange therapeutic device consists of a glass cylinder that generates static electricity by turning against a chamolite pad. It is considered the most complete example of its kind. The only other known specimen, incomplete, is in the New York State museum in Albany.

References to the "shocking machine" were found in an 1827 journal of the Shakers, a religious sect.

Aged Woman Recluse Found to Have Had $500,000 Treasure

AKRON, OHIO.—In the hotel room of an aged woman recluse administrators of her estate found a treasure worth more than $500,000. Under police escort, they removed it to a bank.

Wrapped in an old newspaper on the floor of a closet were $300,000 in government bonds, the primary objects of the administrators' search. In an old sugar sack stuffed in the corner of a dresser drawer was a small fortune in diamonds, rubies, pearls and jade. Their gold settings had tarnished during decades of neglect.

An old trunk yielded $20,000 in stocks and a bank book showing deposits of $15,000.

The owner of this wealth, Miss Frances Louise Butler, about 80, died of pneumonia in City Hospital. She left no will and apparently had no surviving relatives.

A preliminary search of the room uncovered stocks and jewels valued at about $153,000, W. A. Woodling, the administrator, reported. He said she owned another $500,000 worth of assets in New York banks and in brokers' hands.

One person at her funeral added a little to the meager knowledge of Miss Butler's past. He was J. Al Crist, who recalled that 50 years ago when he played in orchestras in Cincinnati and New York opera houses she was a singer.

He said he remembered that she sang at the bier of President McKinley when his body lay in state at the White House in 1901.

Bees Air-Condition Hives By Controlling Temperature

HARRISBURG.—Weather doesn't bother the bees. They air-condition their hives by controlling temperature and humidity.

Prof. E. J. Anderson, bee specialist at Pennsylvania State college, said that even when outside temperatures were below zero, bees maintained a temperature of 96 degrees Fahrenheit in the center of the winter cluster.

He said the moisture content of the hive ranges from 65 to 80 per cent. This humidity is maintained fairly constant despite varying humidity changes outside the hive. For that reason, Professor Anderson cautions beekeepers against opening hives any oftener than is necessary to care for the colony.

Rabbit Plagues Prove Costly To Australian Farm Programs

SIDNEY.—Rabbits, long known to the world by reputation as Australia's worst plagues are said to cost that country almost two million dollars a year, offset in part by the fact that their skins and carcasses sold to the United States alone bring in 36 million dollars as a minimum every 12 months.

"Down Under," through no fault of its own except the suitability of its remarkable soil and climate, is beset to all accounts with a plethora of pests from dingoes to prickly pears and burrs to bulbuls. How the bulbul found its way to the Antipodes appears to be veiled in mystery, although it is reputed to have become acclimatized about half a century ago and is the only bird that eats tomatoes in addition to fruit.

The latest undesired application is said to be the lantana, of tropical American origin prized by gardeners in the United States for its multicolored flowers. Like many other hitherto well-behaved plants, notes the Manchester Guardian in a review of nature's perverseness there, it ran amuck when introduced to Commonwealth soil.

A fragment of water hyacinth, once a garden plant admired for its lovely mauve flower, was thrown into Swan Creek in New South Wales, and in two years had choked a 50-foot-wide stream. It then infested the rivers of two states, necessitating the expenditure of thousands of pounds to clear navigable channels. The Bathurst burr arrived over a century ago in the tails of horses from Valparaiso.

Memorial Library Acquires Valuable Egyptian Necklace

ST. BONAVENTURE, N. Y.—A necklace worn more than 3,400 years ago by a Queen of Egypt who renounced her sex has just been acquired by the Friedsam memorial library at St. Bonaventure college.

The multi-colored adornment, a double circlet of round and tubular beads with a short beaded pendant in front, once belonged to Queen Hatshepsut, who ruled Egypt with her father, Thutmose I, in the Eighteenth Dynasty (1616-1481 B.C.)

Hatshepsut used every possible device to conceal her real sex, calling herself King Makeri and dressing like a man. She married her half-brother, Thutmose II, who succeeded her.

The necklace, together with a document authenticating it, came into the possession of the library through the procurator general of the Franciscan Order of Friars Minor in Rome.

Fishing

Best at Lake Mead

LAS VEGAS, NEV.—Five hundred feet up near-by desert mountainsides where goats and jackrabbits once struggled for existence is to be found today some of the best fresh-water fishing in the world.

While most of the country's fishing sites are snowed in or closed for the season, Lake Mead, the man-made body of water stretching 115 miles from Hoover (Boulder) dam to Grand Canyon, continues to produce bass, blue gill, perch and catfish in fabulous numbers. They are so plentiful that the season is open day and night the year around.

For 13 years now, since the reservoir started filling in 1935, fishermen have come to take daily limits of 10 bass, some weighing 12 to 15 pounds; 25 catfish, and 20 crappie, perch and blue gill.

Models Must Have More Than Beauty, Grace for Success

NEW YORK.—Mrs. Eileen Ford, who operates a $250,000-a-year model agency, said a successful cover girl must have "ego satisfaction." She also needs "individuality analysis" and "quality control."

But the girls couldn't make the grade on shapely legs, or other physical accoutrements, alone. "They must be well adjusted mentally," she said.

That's where Mrs. Ford comes in. Only 23 and pretty enough to be a model, Mrs. Ford said she was well trained in psychology while attending Barnard college.

"When I started the agency," she said, "I was quick to learn that models who ruined costly poses did so mainly because of their mental attitudes."

She said she immediately put a stop to the undy ad and leg art business.

"I insisted on stimulating 'quality control' by elevating modeling to a profession of which any model's mother would be proud," she said. "Ego satisfaction, I found was just as important and I gave every effort to building up the confidence of our girls. We give them every attention and try to keep their minds free from worry."

Mrs. Ford said she uses psychology on her customers, too. "I have long talks with them on the telephone," she said, "and I try to analyze their moods. If the client is upset and disgruntled about something, it's easy to detect it. The problem then is to send him a girl who is chic and refreshing: A blonde, perhaps, tall and slender, with a sympathetic smile."

One-Year Term Marines To Get Special Training

NEW YORK.—Approximately three of every four one-year enlistees in the Marine Corps will receive specialist schooling after "boot" camp, under a new program approved by Gen. Clifton B. Cates, commandant of the marine corps.

Decision to concentrate on specialist training for 18-year-olds was prompted in part by results of aptitude studies. Average general classification test scores reported for one-year enlistees now at Marine corps recruit depots are: San Diego, Calif., 115; Parris Island, S. C., 109. Average wartime score for the Marine Corps was 104.

Men selected for formal technical training will commence study in one of the following schools: clerical, engineer, ordnance repair, automotive repair, supply-clerical, photographic, electronics and cooking, and baking. Aviation students, after a basic technical school, will be further assigned for schooling as aviation electricians, machinists, structural machinists and electronics specialists.

Vatican Engineers Making St. Peter's Basilica Safe

ROME.—Vatican engineers are working to make St. Peter's Basilica, Christendom's largest church, completely safe for the thousands of visitors expected during the 1950 holy year.

The task is complicated by two factors peculiar to the great basilica, he said:

Part of St. Peter's is built on a shaky foundation and the structure, made mostly of porous limestone, sops up underground moisture. This moisture rusts the iron clamps which, along with mortar bind together the limestone, marble and clay blocks.

The structure holds an enormous throng. When 50,000 persons are in it, they may raise the temperature as much as 10 degrees. This causes a peculiar reaction on the mortar. Two huge chunks, one weighing nearly 200 pounds and another 600 pounds, crashed into chapels in 1947.

Engineers were replacing the iron clamps with bronze and reinforcing the mortar as well as the basilica's foundation.

The first basilica on the site was built by Constantine in 326. It was torn down in the 16th century.

SHORT STORY

Susan's Suspicion

By EMMIE BELL PORTER

SUSAN shut the French door and held her hand over her eyes. She had distinctly heard her best friend, Phoebe, say: "Roy dear, we really should confess to Susan . . . even if she is your wife, you must realize that she is no child!"

Roy's darkly handsome face was bent over the chair where Phoebe reclined gracefully, one arm thrown carelessly over the cloud of dark hair which framed her delicate, heart-shaped face. Her blue eyes were fixed on Roy's troubled brow, and one slim white hand rested fleetingly on his brown one.

She knew by the uncomfortable look on both faces as she entered that the conversation had not been finished.

Susan tried to make her voice casual, "Too bad Roy has to go away so quickly on this business trip. He does hate to travel anyway . . . and having to leave on such short notice has really upset him."

Phoebe's eyes, usually so frank and confiding were lowered. "It is a shame, isn't it?"

AFTER bidding her good-by, Susan hurriedly joined her husband in the bedroom. Roy's usually calm face was flushed. Hastily he crammed pajamas into an open bag, as he anxiously asked, "Susan, are you sure you will be all right, staying here alone?"

"Of course," answered Susan flinging herself into a chair.

Roy's dark eyes were suddenly shadowed with pain. "Dear," he murmured, laying his arm lightly around her shoulders, "Dear, I want you to always remember . . . no matter what happens . . . I've always tried to be a good husband to you."

"Why Roy," laughed Susan as she blinked back sudden tears, "Darling! You sound as if you were going away forever, instead of just several days." She laid her hand caressingly on the broad dependable shoulders. "We have had a pretty swell life together in the two years we've been married haven't we?"

Roy tipped her head back and passed his hand over her features, "Yes, dear, a most wonderful two years!" He pressed his mouth briefly against her cool lips and was gone . . . down the steps into the waiting car.

SUSAN slept fitfully and at eight o'clock was debating with herself whether it was worth the trouble to go down and make coffee, when suddenly and terrifyingly the doorbell rang. Susan fled down the steps with terror tugging at her heart and threw the door open to a weary looking Phoebe who stood on the steps smiling through her tears.

Roy's darkly handsome face was bent over the chair where Phoebe reclined gracefully.

"Phoebe," gasped Susan. "Phoebe, what—why—is anything wrong?"

"No darling," soothed Phoebe. "Everything is very much all right . . . very much so!" she repeated mysteriously. "I have something for you." She held out a folded piece of paper to Susan. "Here, take this. I'm spending the day with you . . . read the letter, then come on up and I'll answer all your questions then."

As one in a dream Susan sat down weakly and read:

Dearest Dearest Susan: When you get this letter the operation will be over and everything will be perfectly all right. I found out only today that I would have to have an emergency operation and conspired with Phoebe to keep it a secret from you . . . knowing how much you love me and worry about me at the slightest excuse, I wanted to spare you the suspense and the worry. This was one decision I had to make alone . . . as I was only given a fifty-fifty chance to pull through . . . and I felt it was unfair to ask you to help make a decision of that kind. Phoebe has her instructions to give you this letter when and if the operation is a complete success.

Remember, I love you, Roy.

A Fifth of America's Doctors are Trained in Northern Illinois

CHICAGO and Northern Illinois is a world center for medical education. More doctors are trained in the area than in any other comparable community. At a conservative estimate, one doctor out of every five in the nation received part or all of his education here.

This area is a magnet for medical students because five great medical schools, with superb hospital and research facilities, are located here. The schools include the College of Medicine of the University of Illinois (the largest medical school in the United States, and probably in the world), Northwestern University Medical School (third largest in the nation), the University of Chicago School of Medicine, Stritch School of Medicine of Loyola University, and Chicago Medical College.

The medical schools are supplemented, in their teaching task, by post-graduate seminars, clinical conferences, and special courses; by the area's 95 hospitals; and by outstanding medical library facilities ties that include some 500,000 volumes. Along with the medical schools themselves, the area contains many educational institutions in allied fields. There are, for example, three famous schools of dentistry (the only city with that many), 44 schools of nursing, a major college of pharmacy, 21 schools for x-ray technicians, and others for medical librarians, medical technologists, physical therapists, occupational therapists and dental hygienists.

Schools alone, however, do not make a great center of medical education. More important are the experienced physicians and surgeons of this area who are constantly learning and, at the same time, are passing on their knowledge to new generations of medical men.

Medical training is only one of the many segments of education in which Chicago and Northern Illinois is outstanding. That the city and surrounding communities form a great educational and medical center, as well as the center of an industrial empire, is important to industrialists everywhere.

Give it Room—it's ROADMASTER!

WHEN this sight greets you in your rear-view mirror—mister, better give over!

Overtaking you is just about the ablest performer on the road today—and wise drivers long ago learned the only thing to do with ROADMASTER is give it road room and a salute as it passes.

Reason is—ROADMASTER is something excitingly new in fine cars.

Big, yes—stretches a gorgeous eighteen feet, with all that such size means in comfort and inside stretch-out space.

But part and parcel of every one of its 4,400-odd pounds is the fastest footwork on the highway. Action is the key of every part, from its 150-hp Fireball power plant to the swift, silken, unbroken surge you get from Dynaflo Drive.

As a matter of fact, action's even invited by the price tag. By the pound, by the inch, by any yardstick you want to lay against it, it's the buy of the fine-car field.

For proof, just gather a few delivered prices on other cars and bring them around. We'll show you so much more for your dollar you'll waste no time getting an order in.

BUICK alone has all these features

Silk-smooth DYNAFLO DRIVE* • FULL-VIEW VISION from enlarged glass area • SWING-EASY DOORS and easy access • "LIVING SPACE" INTERIORS with Deep-Cradle cushions • Buoyant-riding QUADRUFLUX COIL SPRINGING • Lively FIREBALL STRAIGHT-EIGHT POWER with SELF-SETTING VALVE LIFTERS plus HI-POISED ENGINE MOUNTINGS • Cruiser-Line VENTIPORTS • Low-pressure tires on SAFETY-RIDE RIMS • DUREX BEARINGS, main and connecting rods • BODY BY FISHER

*Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on SUPER models.

When better automobiles are built BUICK will build them

Tune in HENRY J. TAYLOR, ABC Network, every Monday evening
